Part-time Jobs in Summer

Meg and her friends joined a street dance club at school last semester. They learned a lot of dance skills in the club. This summer, the club needed a new CD player and new outfits for a talent show. For the money, Meg and her friends worked different jobs.

Meg worked part-time at her dad’s car wash. Tom and Iris walked dogs for their neighbors. Sam painted pictures for people. Finally, they raised enough money for the club. They were all tired but happy.

Now the club has a very nice CD player and cool outfits. All the students in the club are ready for the show.

Behrouz Boochani recently won the literary prize in Australia. However, he couldn’t pick up his award. That’s because Boochani is a refugee on Manus Island. He can’t enter Australia. The Australian government doesn’t let in refugees who came by boat, like Boochani did.

Boochani, an Iranian writer, has stayed on the island for six years. He wrote his book, “No Friend But the Mountains” on text message at a time. His book talks about the hard life when he was in the detention camp on the island.

This situation is tough for Boochani and other refugees. However, some people hope his action can encourage Australia to take more care with human rights.

Dear Roxy,

It's the third day of our family trip, and now we're at Taipei Train Station. There was a lot of nice food in this building. For lunch, I ate two pieces of pizza, and my parents ate beef noodles. They were so delicious. There were some clothes stores next to the food stands, too. I didn't like the clothes because they were very ugly, so I went to a bookstore. I bought some great postcards there, and I picked this one for you. The photo on it is Taipei Train Station! Do you like it?

By the way, our next stop is Hualien, and I will tell you everything about it in another postcard.

Your friend,
Bella
